DISCUSSION AND COOPERATION BETWEEN

UNIVERSIDAD TECNOLOGICA DEL NORTE DE COAHUILA
And
ST. PHILIP'S COLLEGE/SWC

By this agreement, Universidad Tecnológica del Norte de Coahuila, and St. Philip's College/SWC, join together to promote academic, scientific and education partnership between our institutions. We pledge our cooperation will be of mutual value to both Universidad Tecnológica del Norte de Coahuila and St. Philip's College/SWC, to our people and our Communities. Further, it is based upon international education principles of mutual benefit that assure equality and reciprocity.

Activities of this agreement shall include but not limited to:

Faculty Exchange.- It shall be the privilege of each institution to nominate one or more of their faculty each year to participate in an exchange for the purpose of study or lecture in the other reciprocal basis. The host institution will provide an appointment and library/teaching materials for each faculty exchange travel, living arrangements, and other costs will be negotiated on an individual basis.

Visiting Faculty.- In addition to an exchange of faculty members both institutions may, on occasion, invite faculty members of the other institution to visit for the purposes of lecturing or consulting. Such visits must be approved by the faculty member's home institution. The host institution will have primary responsibility for the costs of the visiting faculty member, with the exception of intentional air travel and salary may be negotiated.

Student Exchange.- Each institution will look with favor upon the exchange of a limited number of students each year. The established admission and acceptance policies of each institution will be followed. The cost and details for each student exchange will be negotiated and administered by the appropriate officers of both institutions.

Development of other relationships.- Whereas both institutions agree to the mutual benefit of humanistic exchange. This agreement sets apart the opportunity to continue to work together to build other relationships, such as the exploration of library and academic materials, the exchange of performing groups, the exploration of opportunities for tele-and satellite-communicated meetings, conferences, or other academic endeavors.

Date of this agreement.- This agreement shall become effective June,2001. It will renew annually on June, 2002 without change unless either party wishes to modify this agreement, or unless one institution gives six months advance notice of its intent not to renew.

Appointment of responsibility officials.- Each institution will appoint one officer to act on its behalf in all matters of correspondence, arrangements for exchange and visits, negotiations and agreements and to receive all inquiries from faculty, students, and Administration.
