

Imports

Know in advance if your goods are regulated.

After identifying the goods, look up the sanitary requirements at the appropriate electronic help desk, taking into account the country of origin, country of departure, use, etc.

- Phytosanitary requirements
- Zoosanitary requirements
- Aquaculture sanitary requirements

Upon being specified, you can determine which requirements will be processed at the country of origin and/or departure, and which requirements you must meet at a Mexican port, airport or border checkpoint.

The documentation for the requirements can be attached at the Ventanilla Única (One-stop window) system, that will issue you a folio number, or you may submit it in person at the Agricultural and Livestock Inspection Offices. In both cases, the official personnel will verify compliance with the requirements for this proceeding, and issue a deadline to submit any missing document thereto. Subsequently to the above step, the goods shall undergo physical inspection and sampling, provided such is a requirement.

The appropriate import certificate shall be issued after the SENASICA's official personnel verifies full compliance with the requirements.

Specific cases:

Animal-derived

- Import authorization of samples from animal-derived goods for verification, analysis or tasting Senasica-01-047-A
- Import authorization of raw materials Senasica-01-047-B
- Product samples for animal use or consumption with educational, research, verification, registry or field testing purposes Senasica-01-047-C
- Meat, entrails and animal parts unfit for human consumption intended for Federal Inspection Type establishments, through the Zoosanitary Quality Password for Reliable Import Users (UCON). Request the issuance of the password by the authorities at the SENASICA's central offices through a specific form. Look up the procedure in Senasica-03-009
- Reliable User (UCON) is the password issued to reliable users of TIF establishments that speeds procedures for the import of meat, carcasses, entrails and animal parts unfit for human consumption.

Vegetable-derived

- For the import of goods with the requirement of verification at the origin, comply with the procedure: SENASICA 02-014

Remember to look up if your goods are subject to regulations from other agencies.
