

FSMA and the Mexican Safety System (SRRC)

SENASICA makes available FSMA dissemination materials as well as the final regulations in order for producers to know and apply a solid and real system in the country, such as the Mexican Safety System called Pollution Risk Reduction Systems (SRRC) in vegetable production.

These documents impact domestic production in the US and exporters, so all those who send fresh vegetables or intend to do so, must be subject to the application and compliance of these Regulations.
