

Transparency

In this section, you will find everything related to the topic

National Service of Health, Safety and Agrifood Quality | August 11, 2023

We have adopted a proactive approach to transparency, to offer and translate this information, so that citizens have elements of judgment to evaluate public and institutional performance.

In this section, we provide you with information that contributes to an open and accountable public management.